

Hue and Cry - The Palace comedy duo

Hue: My name is Hue

Cry: My name is Cry

Hue: Our job is to look after our Boss - Prince Charming.

Cry: He's a lovely chap by really struggling to find the right person to spend his life and fortune with. He's tried match.com and tinder, but all he keeps getting is gold diggers.

Hue: One people realise who he is you see the pound signs light up in their eyes. Our jobs to make sure no one takes advantage of him.

Cry: Last week we had these horrible sisters chasing him. Some how they managed to get into the Princes Birthday party, and after eating all the food they chased him around the dance floor.

Hue: We had to stand between the Prince and these ugly sisters. Their cheese and onion breath was more attractive than they were, but I'm still having treatment for PTSD as the experience was just horrifying!
